the Mexican political situation. These men elected by the people of Mexico comprise the City Council. These men hold office for two years without re-election. Eight are elected one year and eight the next year.

After each election the Councilmen elect a Mayor from among themselves. Last October Juan Vera was elected to this high office replacing Otto Muller deceased and has since held it. His term expires late this fall.

PERFECTS MACHINE
From all indications Loera succeeded several months ago in organizing a minority faction of ten Councilmen. This he succeeded in doing by ousting the eight members and appointed deputies to replace them. Their avowed purpose was to control the city. They called themselves "co-operativistas," and were only against the administration Gov. Innocente Lugo of Lower ago it is said the opposing Councilman faction composed of eight members brooded charges against the other seven members and the eight deputies charging them with usurpation of authority. The case was brought up before Judge Elias Castro of Mexicali, who referred the case of Federal Judge A. Balboa to Torres at Tijuana.

REGARDED AS PRISONERS
Loera and his followers were suspended for seventy-two hours and at the expiration of this time were directed to consider themselves under nominal arrest until their final hearing. Bail was fixed in each case, at 100 pesos or $50.

Yesterday their seventy-two-hour suspension expired and according to reports, they were regarded as prisoners. During their suspension period the opposing faction had taken control and succeeded in persuading the City Treasurer to honor warrants to the extent of about $4000. Some of this money which was voted in a referendum, went to pay two months advance salaries of these members. Previous to this the Loeristas had their warrants rejected and the treasury, it is asserted, was sealed.

Late yesterday afternoon, according to reports, the Loera faction of fifteen men accompanied by Congressman Covarrubias stormed the City Hall and took possession, announcing that they were entering into permanent session and would not adjourn until President Obregon, who was so notified directed, immediately a legion of police was thrown around the building.

REVOLVERS DRAWN
Shortly before 5 p.m. Congressman Covarrubias left the building to converse with a passing Mexican named Michael. He was followed by him stood Mayor Loera, Quirino Luna, a Councilman, and several other men. Their revolvers were drawn, supposedly unbiased witnesses assert. Mexican Congressmen are immune from arrest for any offense until they have been expelled from the Mexican Chamber of Deputies at Mexico City for an offense against the State, and when Chief of Police Guillen stepped toward Covarrubias and Michael, assert witnesses, it appeared as though he intended to arrest the Congressman.

FIRST SHOT FIRED
Then the first shot was fired by one of the men in the doorway and Guillen fell to the ground mortally wounded by a bullet through his stomach. He died in an El Centro hospital at 11 p.m. Immediately after the first shot was fired police officers retreated, leaving a volley of shots into the City Hall Building during the ensuing five minutes, until a battalion of State troops arrived. Several hundred rounds were fired. When the smoke of battle cleared away two policemen were dead, one dying and eleven men wounded. Today the City Hall shows the results of the battle. Nearly every window is shattered. Doors and walls are pelted with shrapnel and floors and walls, much evidence of the fierceness of the battle while it lasted.

On one wall is this crude inscription, written in the blood of Mayor Loera, "Viva la justicia" or "Long live justice."

FIGHT TO FINISH
Joe Castro, a Councilman and member of the Loera faction, asserted today that they would never surrender; that they would fight to the last ditch. Other Trustees echoed his declaration. Gov. Castro today expressed grave concern over the affair and predicted that the rebels, as he referred to them, would be punished for sedition. "After the fact, where no deaths result," he explained through an interpreter, "is punishable by five years imprisonment. But in this instance, where three of our bravest officers were shot down, murdered, the offense calls for the death penalty."

AWAIT ORDERS
The men will be tried by the penal judge and not by a jury, regardless of whether they surrender or are taken, was his belief. He declared no action will be taken, however, until instructions are received from Mexico City.

There was little doubt in the mind of the rebels regarding the developments and both sides seem to be playing a waiting game. The situation thus looks ominous and predictions are rife that more fighting is in the offing. If not tonight, then tomorrow.

not responsible for the resulting situation. The French always was favorable to an entente with England, but I always conceived this friendship as leaving both people full independence of opinion and action. The French was destined to conciliate their interests and not subordinate them to another, finding it in common interest to support the French in the next Congress is wholly possible unless the administration, through Hoover and Root, get at the bottom of the trouble right now.

Baldwin alleges that when the government determines to complete the railroad project to Fairbanks, the Guggenheims, through Joslin, unloaded the unsuccessful Alaska Northern Railway Company, and retained the profitable Copper River Line. It is charged further that the Guggenheims spent $55,000,000 in completing the standard gauge line of 447 miles from Seward to Fairbanks.

YANKEE DENIES BEING CONVERT OF SOVIETISM

AMERICAN ABROAD SAYS IMPROVEMENT NOT DUE TO COMMUNISM

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

CONTANTINOPLE, July 15.—

The report that he left Moscow a pro-Communist was ridiculed today by Irving T. Bush, president of the Bush Terminal, who has arrived here from Rumania after leaving today on a destroyer for Athens.

Mr. Bush said the report was due to the fact that he found economic conditions in Russia better than he had expected, but he declared that the improvement, far from being a result of Communism, had followed the Soviet's abandonment of Communist principles and policy by giving more scope to individual enterprise.

He believed that American recognition of the Soviet state would be preceded by Russia's payment of her debts to America and a previous period in which Russia would be on her good behavior. He thinks the Soviet leaders are sincere, but that none is capable of killing Lenin's place.

Mr. Bush will be accompanied to Greece by United States Trade Commissioner Gillespie. Mrs. Bush will remain here as the guest of Admiral and Mrs. Briot. On his return Mr. Bush will study the political situation and then conditions in Bulgaria.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

HERMOSA BEACH, July 15.—

Friday the thirteenth was chosen as especially appropriate for laying the cornerstone of the new home of the Hermosa Beach Review.

To begin with, P. H. Johnston, the Review publisher, was born on a 13th of July. He started to burn his trade as a printer on a Friday. This year the two are combined and the birthday falls on a Friday, which happens but once in six years and there is not to be another Friday the 13th until 1934.

The papers published by the Johnston Printing Company are both issued on Friday. Both were bought by Mr. Johnston in 1912. Since he has owned them, they have been published at the head of Thirteenth street. The new building will be erected over two lots which were directly down Thirteenth street, and all the numbers of the new structure will begin with 13.

Not being able to buy a square small enough to fit the box in the cornerstone, and desiring to purchase a cornerstone, a better lot in this city, a large square was cut down. And after the cutting of the lot, it was discovered that the lot was 13 on one end and 13 on the other. And added up they give the number—13. Mr. Johnston guessed it already. Mr. Johnston has always maintained that 13 is

British Reparation Policy Causes Rally

Activity in Steel Industry Shows Decline

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

NEW YORK, July 15.—Extreme dullness which was attributed to the season and the current uncertainty in the business situation characterized the chief financial markets of the past week.

Trading on the New York Stock Exchange lapsed back to the lowest level for the past year, amounting to only about 400,000 shares a day.

At the same time a firmer tone was in evidence, particularly toward the latter part of the week. It was considered that the liquidation which preceded the end of the half-year had strengthened the speculative position materially and that the passage of the last installment of reparations would be a relief to the market.

Emphasis was also given to the reassuring character of the British statement of reparations policy. Premier Baldwin's speech had been awaited with some apprehension, rumors having been circulated to the effect that a break in the reparations was possible. The speech itself was taken with some surprise, but was regarded as a relief.

FAVORABLE ATMOSPHERE

While the British Premier said little which would indicate the details of what his government contemplates, a favorable atmosphere had been created and that the reply to Germany is likely to mark further progress along the road to agreement. In any event, the markets showed a disposition to rally after the full statement was published.

REDUCTION IN PRODUCTION

Considerable attention was attracted by the continued decline in wheat prices to less than $1 a bushel for the leading futures at Chicago. Under the circumstances, the publication of the report on the farm products situation, prepared by a committee of experts, revealed a serious situation in the production of wheat. The report took the ground that Europe's purchasing power is likely to be smaller in the future, and that a good description of the hold-up man and believe him to be the one who has committed a number of similar crimes during the past few weeks.

ITALIAN PREMIER FORCES THROUGH ELECTORAL LAW

(BY V. DE SANTO)

ROME, July 15.—Premier Mussolini scored one of the most brilliant triumphs of his career when Parliament voted in favor of his new electoral law at 11 o'clock tonight amid scenes of wild enthusiasm.

The new law, which practically perpetuates the Fascist government through expert redistribution of seats, encountered the blocked opposition of all the remaining Liberal elements in Italy, but the dictator imposed his will.

Premier Mussolini's address began by a stern renewal of the Fascist program, which was a severe blow to the Liberal elements. The Deputies cheered the Fascist and marched around the chamber singing "Garibaldi's Hymn," and all the national songs, winding up with the Fascist hymn, "Giovinezza."

CHARGES MADE IN CHURCH ROW

One Faction Says Another Put on Dance

Modification of Court's Order Sought

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
FRESNO, July 15.—Sprightly charges against one faction in a dispute over control of the Princeton Methodist Episcopal Church.

At Fresno in the country, were aided by the trustees yesterday in motion for modification of a Superior court injunction, and in so accompanying affidavits. The defendants, all said to be members of the church, are accused of telling suggestive stories in the use of worship.

Throwing cigar and cigarette litter on the Sabbath.

Inviting young girls to put on a "nake dance."

Throwing stones on the Sabbath.

On the Sabbath.

Last March the trustees started proceedings in the Superior Court to obtain certain group of persons who were said to be trying to obtain control of the church building.

ISSUED INJUNCTION

Superior Judge Cashin issued a temporary injunction, ordering that pending trial of the action, the steers and their followers should have possession of the church for quiet and peaceful purposes between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. Sunday, and the opposing faction between 2 p.m. and 4 p.m.

The motion filed yesterday asks that the injunction be so modified to restrain the defendants from actively interfering with, entering upon or assuming control of or disturbing the quiet or peaceful use or possession of the plaintiffs. This motion will be heard next Friday. The support of it are set forth the

The supporting affidavits were made by Mrs. F. W. Strome of uthers and A. J. Malsberry, superintendent of the Princeton day-school. Mrs. Strome says that on Sunday, June 10, she saw a shoe pitching under way in churchyard. On the night of June 16, she says, she attended in the church meeting of the Princeton Literary ety. Two girls, says the art, executed a dance on the ro-

ACTORS BENEFIT BY REVUE PARTY

Hollywood Stars to Assist in Amassing Fund

Frohman Praises Southland
Branch for Work

Veteran Says Film a Boon to Many Classes

Nearly all the motion-picture stars in Hollywood will occupy themselves at a special performance to be given at the Coliseum next Friday evening for the benefit of the Actors' Fund of America, under an arrangement made by Daniel Frohman, who is now in Los Angeles in behalf of this fund, of which he is the president.

The development of the organization which has this benefit in charge has been particularly marked in this section of the country. Mr. Frohman said last night when seen at the Hollywood Hotel.

"The Los Angeles branch of the fund organization, which is national in scope, has been paying out between $15,000 and $20,000 year for the benefit of actors who are ill or otherwise in need of assistance," he said.

"The organization is growing all the time in all the great centers of the country, but nowhere is it making greater progress than in this section."

To promote interest in the fund, the organization puts on a special event of some kind each year in Los Angeles.

"The fund gets proceeds
"Two years ago," said Mr.
Frohman, "we had the great passage of the Speedway. Last summer 'Midsummer Night's Dream' was produced at The Bowl under the auspices of the fund management and this year on Friday, which has been designated as Actors' Fund Day, the Exposition grounds will be turned over to us and we will receive 25 per cent of the gross receipts that day. In the evening the proceeds of the performance at the Coliseum will be turned over to the fund."

"We are enjoying the co-operation and patronage of virtually every noted screen celebrity in this entertainment," said Mr. Frohman.
"The fund has been given the performance will be given under the auspices and I have the assurance of a long list of stars that they will be present on this occasion.
This list includes the names of Douglas Fairbanks, Mary Pickford,
Charles Chaplin, Norma and Col-stance Talmadge, Pola Negri, Pauline Frederick, Will Rogers, Lola Wilson, Carmel Myers, Theda
Bara, Kathlyn Williams, Conrad Nagel, Enid Bennett, Mae Murray and about forty others of equal prominence in the motion-picture world."

HONORS FOR PLAYERS

The performance, in addition to the usual program for the evening, will include a number of special features in honor of the actors, and other using one box of "The event will be unusual in several respects," said Mr. Frohman.

"But particularly from the fact that it will be one of the rare occasions when the special benefit of the actors rather than the general public."

The work of the fund organization in Los Angeles is under the direction of a committee known as the Actors' Fund Committee, headed by Frank E. Woods as president and Father Neal Dodd as secretary. This committee has charge of the funds dispensed for the relief of needy actors in this section.

HUNTERS WARNED EARLY

Laws Protecting Deer Will be Vigorously Enforced
to Prevent Extinction of Species

Unusual precautions will be taken to prevent any infraction of the game laws during the deer season this fall, according to Stuart J.
Flintham, chief game warden, who asserts that unless strict precautions are taken it will be only a few years before the deer of the county will become extinct.

Owing to the fact that the open season for shooting deer remains the same as the last few years, September 15 to October 15, which practically coincides with the mating season of the deer, many bucks come down from the high hills and fall beneath the hunters' guns.

Not only are the bucks tamer during the season set by law for hunting, but many of the deer shot at this time are unfit for eating as the meat is stunted. Just why the lawmakers ever picked the worst time in the year for the open season is a question which those interested in the preservation of the species have never found out, it is said.

Unless the season is changed soon there will be decided dearth of bucks and a gradual dying out of the species from natural causes.
Another problem that both the game officials of the county is the patrolling of the Ventura-Los Angeles county boundary. The season in Ventura opens a month and a half before it opens in this county and misunderstanding of the laws by those hunting near the border is a constant source of irritation as well as law-breaking.

STUDIOS ASTOUND BELGIAN

Engineer from Europe on World Tour Gets Thrill in First Visit to Hollywood

The motion-picture industry at Hollywood has made a vast impression on Louis Canon-Legrand, Belgian engineer, who, with his wife, is visiting Los Angeles and is stopping at the Alexandria.

"We had been told that it was impossible for anybody except persons directly interested in the business to gain access to any of the studios," said Mr. Legrand. "But when we went to the studios, we found that the studios were open to Douglas Fairbanks and told them that we were on a trip around the world and had seen motion pictures in every country in the world. They were very kind and took us through the place."

"We traveled extensively in the Orient," said Mr. Legrand, "visiting China, Manchuria, parts of India, Ceylon and Korea. We were particularly impressed with the great work of the Japanese in the motion picture industry. They are doing great things in that country."

Mr. Legrand is delighted with Los Angeles. "I have been in the United States four times," he said, "but this is my first visit to the motion picture industry. I have never seen where the people are so enterprising. The motion picture industry is a great thing and is growing all the time. I am looking forward to my next visit to the great city of Old World cinema."

ANGELENOS TO SEE ALASKA

Harding's Trip Influences Tourists to Engage Passage
on Ship Buford, Sailing Soon

As a result of the advertising that has been given to Alaska by the recent journey of President Harding, numerous Angelenos and citizens of Southern California will spend a part of their vacations in that country.

They have made reservations for an excursion aboard the liner Buford, which starts on its journey northward on the 20th inst.

Included among these passengers are business men who will look into business prospects in Alaska while otherwise on a sightseeing trip.

Alaskan customs reports for 1931 show that the year before last, the value of goods imported into Alaska was $20,780,401, and that exports more than doubled. The import, a survey of the trade situation shows that the salmon-canning industry in the last year had a decided revival, and that the salmon run was almost normal.

Fish and allied products shipped from this territory to the United States in 1931 amounted to $24,730,382. Besides the improvement noted in fish, mining, likewise showed a remarkable development, due mainly to copper.

New oil fields are now being developed in the Cold Bay district, where the Buford will stop. Other major exports include fur, gypsum, lead, marble, petroleum, platinum and reindeer meat, totaling annually spends something like $100,000 in actors' relief," Mr.

Frohman said.

The New Yorker has been in the theatrical business for many years and is one of the best known figures in the industry. He is not actively engaged as a producer during the present year, though he will control the Lyceum and owns an interest in the Empire in New York City. "David Belasco is one of my tenants," he said.

OLD TIMES RECALLED

In speaking of the growth of the theatrical business in this country, and particularly the motion-picture end of it, Mr. Frohman recalled his early experiences.

"The first time I was in Los Angeles was in the late seventies," he said. "When Los Angeles was a town of about 14,000 inhabitants.
I came here as advance agent for a theatrical company. The business was then in its infancy. We did not even have advance bookings for our shows, but picked up towns here and there as we could, in which to give one performance, marvel at the great development that has taken place since those early days."

Mr. Frohman also spoke of the changes that have occurred in the ranks of the actors since the days he was an advance agent.

"In the East I found maintains a home for aged actors and sometimes when I visit it I meet there some of the actors who used to be stars in the industry," he said. "Certain individuals I recall with particular vividness because they used to belong to rival troupe which were in constant rivalry with each other, and my endeavors to obtain bookings for our own productions."

FINDS OLD FRIENDS

"I am always delighted to come to Hollywood, because I find among the actors there so many who were formerly connected with my own productions in New York. Not a few of them who used to receive from $50 to $70 a week on the stage in the old days are now riding around in limousines and enjoying affluence."

In this connection Mr. Frohman called attention to the fact that the motion pictures have been a boon to many actors whose days on the legitimate stage were over and who are now prosperous and happy as screen actors.

Though much of his life has been spent in the promotion of the legitimate stage, Mr. Frohman does not take the view of many theatrical men that the motion picture is outside the pale of legitimate amusement. On the contrary, he

Late Reports From California's Great Petroleum Pools

RARE MINERALS, METALLURGY, CHEMISTRY

Not Lenses Crystals
CHLOREIDE (Ariz.) June 27.—Question: I am sending you three samples and want you to tell me if they are lenses or crystals. If they are lenses, I would like to know of a buyer.
Answer: Lenses, according to the United States Geological Survey, is a proprietary name adopted by the producing company of Arizona for a mixture of galena, sphalerite, tetrahedrite and possibly other minerals. It is used as a detector in wireless telegraphy and the product has the same "wireless" character as galena. Samples purchased in the open market and tested by qualitative analysis appear to be high-grade tetrahedrite of the ordinary faber variety and react for zinc, lead, silver traces (in part mirabilite), iron and traces of arsenic. All as sulphides.

Not Radiative
CHLOREIDE (Ariz.) June 27.—Q: I am sending, under separate cover, some ore samples. Please let me know through the usual channels of the Times whether they contain any radioactive properties.
A: The samples are not radioactive and, therefore, do not contain uranium.

Microscopic Iron
LUGO, June 28.—Q: Could you please tell me what this sample contains, and of what value?
A: It is a somewhat rare variety of high-grade hematite, iron peroxide. It is often confused with flake graphite. Take a sample of the mineral and view its surface under a glass in the sunlight. You will find that it is a beautiful garnet red color. Mineral represented by the sample is a valuable ore of iron.

Hornblende
ELINORE, June 28.—Q: I am enclosing two samples of rock. Will you kindly classify them for me? I am interested in what minerals they contain. Thanking you for past favors.
A: Sample No. 1 is a variety of hornblende carrying more or less iron and manganese. No. 2 is typical hornblende rock. Hornblende and granite occur at many points in California and elsewhere. Hornblende has so often been confused with pitchblende that it is well to note as follows: Whenever and wherever you find a rock of more than ordinary weight, with lined crystals scattered throughout the mass, and resembling pitchblende, it is well not to go off at a tangent and believe you have an ore of uranium. Hornblende occurs in so many different forms that to note all of them, including the asbestiform, the acicular and sheet-like specimens, would call for a great deal of space. When you find rock resembling coarse varieties of hornblende with sulphide crystals of lead, iron, copper, zinc, etc., it is then well to have such samples tested for uranium.

Free Gold Abundant
RIALTO, June 29.—Q: I have taken you since 1918 and now I'm going to ask you a favor. Will you kindly analyze the two samples enclosed that I am sending you under separate cover, packed in a paper bag. Please assay for gold and silver.
A: There is no free gold in either sample, and notwithstanding the appreciated fact that you value the specimens, I am sorry to say that the two samples are not rich in gold or silver. The specimens are mostly lead in precious metals, however, and at best would assay low gold values. Sample No. 1 is massive red-brown garnet, a rather too low in the scale of hardness for abrasive purposes. No. 2 is simply hornblende. No mineralogical silver is present in either sample.

WHEELER RIDGE OUTLOOK GOOD

Experts Believe District is Rich in Oil Activities Curbed by Flush Production Here

Leases Are Sought on 20,000 Acres of Land
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
BAKERFIELD, July 15.—That Wheeler Ridge, Kern county's newest oil field, will be one of the greatest in the State as well as one of the most permanent, is the opinion of geologists, who recently surveyed the situation and reported that a vast supply of paraffin-base petroleum doubtless lies beneath the surface at a depth somewhere between 2000 and 3000 feet.

While the Standard Oil Company now has four producing wells, there are at least fourteen more ready to start drilling operations as soon as it is assured that the peak of production has been reached in the fields of Southern California.

ANOTHER COMPANY ACTIVE
Aside from the work of the Standard Oil Company the General Petroleum Corporation is the most active. This concern is interested in Wheeler Ridge proper and its activities extend as far north as within fifteen miles of Bakerfield, about half way between the ridge and the city. The company has taken over the Hall well and is making good progress around 3000 feet. Two miles farther south it has erected a fine camp and is putting up three new derricks.

The latest report from the General Petroleum Corporation's well near Delano, located on Section 29, on and issued from the Quaternary, is to the effect that the hole was cemented off at a depth of 2022 feet and the 10-inch casing cemented and making good progress to the front the drillers are resting. The W. R. Mitchell well near Delano has been closed down following the drill running into a water stratum at 2452 feet. The drillers passed through a number of interesting formations, but none that warranted putting the well on the beam for a try at production. There was a tremendous gas pressure reported and this may lead to further developments as soon as the water is shut off.

OFFERING BONDS
Near Wasco the Main Oil Company has reached a depth of 1210 feet and so confident are those who are watching the well that practically all the available land in the vicinity has been signed up under lease with a bonus of $11 an acre being paid in cash. The land owners to hold the property while the Main Company finishes its well.

The Chandler-Candfield Midway Oil Company has succeeded in two new wells in the Midway field, one on Section 23, 31-32, and another on Section 9, 31-32. This company has its No. 12 well in the Midway on Section 23, 31-32, under test for water shut-off and is redrilling two other wells in the same field. The wells being repaired or redrilled are Nos. 23 on Section 31-32, and No. 4 on Section 31, 31-32.

If a mortgage on real property is a good investment why not ownership of the property itself and full participation in all its earnings?

Endorsed BY NATIONALLY PROMINENT BANKERS AND BUSINESS MEN

IN the opinion of many of the most prominent bankers, business men and investors throughout the United States there is no sounder security than improved income-bearing property in Los Angeles.

This opinion is backed by the investment here of an enormous amount of outside capital every year in this class of property.

With the organization of the Los Angeles Income Properties, Inc., the way is opened for the average investor to fully participate in the permanent profits derived from large-scale operations in diversified income properties in Los Angeles.

This company will own, operate and manage income properties. It is thoroughly equipped for the upbuilding of an income estate and combines through its departmental organization the earning capacities of many other successful institutions. Purchase of the Preferred shares now offered at $100 par gives the investor full participation in all the earnings from every activity of the company and a common stock holding in addition to the 7% Cumulative dividends, thus affording an investment which is profitable and secured by the very basis of the community-income-bearing property.

A request for further information regarding this sound investment opportunity will obligate you in no way.

TAX APPEALS TO BE HEARD HERE

Subcommittee Will Handle Four States

Income Levy Complaints Will Be Sifted

Evidence Must Already Have Been Submitted

Residents of California, Nevada, Utah and Arizona may present appeals from the action of the income-tax suit, Bureau of Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C., to be filed with the subcommittee on appeals and review, at a series of hearings to begin August 1, next, at the Federal Building, Los Angeles, a press statement of the bureau intended for publication to-day.

The result of the work of the subcommittee at St. Paul, Minn., which was begun April 20, last, justifies a continuation of the bureau's plan to hear cases outside of Washington, and at points even more than the Middle West, the statement continues.

COME FROM MINNESOTA

"After completion of its duties at St. Paul, the subcommittee will proceed to Los Angeles and at a date in the fall, to be announced later, will conduct further hearings at Portland, Ar., of cases appealed by residents of Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Wyoming.

The purpose of these hearings in the field is to afford taxpayers of the Pacific Coast States, who can only appear before the bureau at Washington at the cost of much time and expense, an opportunity to present their cases on appeal before an appellate body of the bureau, sitting in the appellate's own locality. All evidence, however, considered in cases heard upon appeal must have been previously submitted to the income-tax unit in accordance with the established practice of the bureau.

Members of the subcommittee are Robert J. Service and Leroy Russell. Appointment of a third member will be announced later. The committee on appeals and review is a body independent of the income unit, and was created by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue subordinate directly to him, to consider appeals from the income tax unit. It consists of two members, all of whom have previous experience in the unit.

VISIT CENTRAL POINT

The plan, as set forth in the foregoing statement, is for subcommittees of the main committee to visit central points throughout the country, to hear appeals there, so that appellants will not be required to journey to Washington.

As stated in the latest annual report the Commissioner of Internal Revenue "in his conclusions of the individual members of the committee, after being formulated and reduced to writing are referred to an executive conference of the entire committee and when agreed to, are submitted to the commission in the form of recommendations. When approved by the commission, these decisions are accepted by the income tax unit as final conclusions of the bureau and action is taken accordingly."

Civic Busybodies Excited About Putting Old-Time Portraits of Mayors in New City Hall

SOME SAY YES. SOME SCRATCH THEIR HEADS.

The gallery of city fathers and the new City Hall form one of the most perplexing problems before the busy civic bodies, as well as the civic busybodies. Already the discussion has begun.

Should the paintings of former Mayors, running mostly to whiskers, adorn the walls of the new City Hall when it is built?

Some say "No." Some with equal brevity say, "Yes."

Some scratch their heads, split into the shining brass cuspidors of City Hall, quite the brightest things there, and say nothing at all.

For the information of those that have never lost their way in the old pla, it is known that fifteen paintings in gaudy gilt frames representing the city's long line of aldermen, hang in the corridor of the second floor. They may be seen without paying admission.

ONE A CHROMO

Most of the paintings are conventional-sized portraits in oil. Most of them are not masterpieces, but even the worst have a romantic color of the days immortalized by Francis Bret Harte. One is not a painting at all; it is a chromo, so much in vogue three decades ago.

They begin with Mayor Coronel, 1853, and end with Mayor Snyder, shown as he appeared at City Hall in the late '90s. The coronel wears a fringe of side whiskers with a smooth lip. Snyder, now shaven and shorn, is shown with those elongated mustaches of a hue that gave him his pseudonym "Pinky."

In between there are all varieties of whiskers. Eight of the fifteen wear 'em, and most of the others have real mustaches, not the modern nondescript ones. Oh, the days of the mustache-guard coffee cup. Gone, all gone!

There are whiskers of striking contrast to the smooth-faced Cryer of this day and age. There are the mid-Victorian chin whisker, the military burnside, and the more conservative Wash. Heeding. But they start with the Coronel's port Beach yesterday afternoon, was washed away by the strong undertow and drowned.

The party was enjoying the strong surf and formed a safety chain by holding hands. An exceptionally strong breaker staggered the party and washed Miss Keller away. The body was recovered soon afterward by fishermen, and taken to the beach.

The body was brought to the city at a late hour last night, and taken to J. H. Riedeman mortuary, 1616 S. Main. Funeral arrangements will be made this morning.

England has about 12,000,000 industrial workers.

ISSUE CALL FOR TAX PAYMENTS

Occupational Tariff is Due by 31st Inst.

Collector Goodcell Gives Out Final Information

Returns Imposed on Boats and Theaters

Returns and payment on the miscellaneous occupational taxes, the special tobacco manufacturers' tax and the special tax on boats must be made on or before the 31st inst. to avoid the penalties provided. Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell announced yesterday.

Capital stock tax returns also must be made before the expiration of the month, payment being required within ten days after notice by the Collector, Mr. Goodcell stated.

Every domestic corporation must make a return even though the law may indicate that it is exempt from the tax, he declared. The same rules apply to foreign corporations operating here.

TAX BASIS

The miscellaneous occupational taxes are as follows: Brokers, $50; pawnbrokers, $100; ship brokers, $50; auctioneers, $50; proprietors of theaters, museums and concert halls where a charge for admission is made, having a seating capacity of not more than 250, shall pay a tax of $50; having a seating capacity exceeding 250 and not exceeding 500, $100; having a seating capacity of more than 500 and not exceeding 1000, $150; proprietors of other public exhibitions or shows, $15; proprietors of bowling alleys and billiard rooms are required to pay $10 for each alley or table; proprietors of shooting galleries, $20; proprietors of riding academies, $100.

Persons carrying on the business of operating or renting passenger automobiles for hire are required to pay $100 for each automobile in excess of two and not more than $200 for each automobile having a seating capacity of more than seven.

BOAT TAX

With respect to the special tax (due in July) imposed upon the use of yachts, pleasure boats, power boats, sailing boats, and motor boats, the Commissioner of Internal Revenue has ruled that a vessel must be both over five tons length and be subject to three feet in length to be subject to the tax.

These boats are divided into three classes with respect to tax: a separate tax is provided for each class as follows: Over five tons and over thirty feet in length, $1 for each foot over five tons, length over fifty feet and not over 100 feet, $2 for each foot; over five tons, length over 100 feet, $4 for each foot.

his practice alone there until 1901 when he came to Los Angeles and the firm of Trippet, Chapman & Bibb was formed.

He was in charge of the organization of the Home Telephone Company of Los Angeles and after its formation acted as its counsel. He was also attorney for the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company Judge Trippet had charge of the legal business in connection with the organization of that corporation.

One of his notable legal victories was in connection with that corporation when its right to maintain in the city of Los Angeles was attacked by the municipality. This was carried to the United States Supreme Court where it was argued and won by Judge Trippet.

LARGE PRACTICE

In the course of his large general and civil practice Judge Trippet represented many other corporations and banks, including the National Bank of California, the California Veterinary Union, E. L. Petter Company, Economic Gas Company, Coutts Dry Goods Company and others.

Following his removal to California Judge Trippet, while always a firm believer in prohibition, joined the Democratic party in national politics. In 1898 he was a delegate from California to the Democratic national convention at Chicago.

Form President Woodrow Wilson appointed him judge of United States District Court, district of Southern California, in 1914, succeeding Judge Otto W. Horn, which position he held at the time of his death.

Judge Trippet has always taken an active interest in the Los Angeles Bar Association, acting as its president in 1911-1912. He had also served as a member of the general council of the American Bar Association. At one time vice-president of the California Club, Judge Trippet was a member of that organization and of the University Club when he died. In fraternal circles he was a member of the Masonic Order. He was a member of the Christian church.

A deep student of national affairs as well as legal matters, Judge Trippet was keenly interested in literature and upon several occasions was the author of poems of much merit which have been published in collections of such work.

SEEKING HOMES FOR NOISY YOUNGSTERS

Any one desiring to become the possessor of a mocking bird, or even three of them, any one of which is guaranteed to make an alarm clock bluish with shame, can obtain the birds by applying to the Los Angeles Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

In addition, the society is willing to bestow twenty-four dogs and 331 cats on any individual desiring to adopt them. The society found homes for seventy-eight dogs, eleven cats and six goats during the past week. It also received and investigated fourteen complaints.

FAMILY'S DAY OF MISFORTUNE

Flivver Runs Over Father and Son Breaks Leg in Fall From Truck

Sunday proved a day of misfortune for John Lauter, 50 years of age, a Russian tailor of 797 West Twenty-fourth street, Los Angeles Harbor.

John was cranking the family Ford yesterday morning with the rest of the Lauter menage aboard preparatory for a day at the beach, when the machine ran over him as it started in gear. He was rushed to the Emergency Hospital and treated by Dr. A. J. Langham, who said John will recover, unless complications set in.

While he was on the operating table, however, his eldest son, Robert, 14 years of age, fell off a newspaper delivery truck and broke his right leg. Father and son were in the hospital a few minutes later. Both decided it was a hard day.

FILMLAND WILL PARADE TONIGHT

the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation will have a replica of the Covered Wagon escorted by a band of genuine Indians, in line with the parade.

STARS ON TYPEWRITER

A mammoth typewriter, with a film beauty sitting on every one of the keys will be the entry of the Principal Pictures Corporation. Warner Brothers, Fox, and other prominent studios are also to be represented in the big parade with elaborate electrical displays and floats.

At least five well-known bands will supply music.

A golden Sunday found the Motion Picture Exposition grounds filled with a motley throng. Hundreds came to hear the organ recital at the Little Church Around the Corner at 4 o'clock, while an equal number witnessed the coronation of Queen Sara of Venice by the Doge of the City of Canals, Mayor Harrah, at the same hour.

The day was officially designated as Grotto Day and Venice Day and what with the feast of the Christians, the carnival costumes of the booth attendants and the vendors of attributes, cigars and chewing gum, the regal robes of Queen Clara and her court, the sedate Sabbath was turned into a rather staid fete day, but still a festal day.

BARKERS ON JOB

The gates opened at 1 o'clock and a goodly crowd was waiting for the unlocking of the turnstile. The barkers were in good voice and the patrons in good humor. It was a trifle incongruous for wanderers about the grounds to hear the majestic pealing of the big Wurlitzer in the Little Church Around the Corner combated by the seductive, whining strains of the Hawaiian Gardens next door, but no one seemed to mind.

At 5 o'clock, following a sacred concert at which the Rev. Neal Hollenback sang, the Rev. Neal Dodd conducted the Sunday vespers service, which is attracting a large and increasing number of church-goers to the Exposition grounds.

There were three bands on the grounds yesterday afternoon, the Hollywood band, the Exposition band and the municipal band of Venice, alternating in sections.

All the booths and concessions were running full blast yesterday afternoon with their regular week-day guests. The only feature which was being danced instead of crowding the bungalows for participation in the jam steps, the exhibitors were given the attention of visitors.

Each day marks greater interest and activity in the Exposition. Yesterday, no doubt at the request of the venerable offering of Universal Pictures Corporation in connection with Saturday night's show in the Coliseum, screen stars were out in force.

The tiniest twinkler in Hollywood, Baby Peggy was hostess at the Universal bungalow and did the honors in receiving the fans who flocked to see her with the decorum of a dowager. Hundreds carried away pictures of the little star.

There were stars in each of the other film company's bungalows submerged by an ever-growing number of hunters of autographed photographs.

Miss Clara Louise Klein of Venice made a charming Exposition Queen for a day. The coronation ceremonies signalled a lull in centennial activities when, at the booth of the City of Venice, Mayor Harrah placed the chaplet on her tresses.

Encouraged by the rising interest of Southland residents in the night performances in the Coliseum, another banner presentation of the remarkable tableaux, ballets and feature acts was given last night. The spectacular fireworks display concluded the program.

Police Capture Two Men After Garage Robbery

Two men describing themselves as Charles Jones and Raymond Goings, carrying a load, the police say, of twenty-eight automobile tires, were stopped in Cahuenga Pass yesterday by Hollywood police and held for the Ventura county authorities.

Sheriff Clark of Ventura notified the Sheriff's office here shortly before midnight that a garage at Camarillo had been entered by burglars, who were believed to be headed toward Los Angeles.

Deputy Sheriff Cooper and Purrier went to the Chatsworth road on the Ventura Boulevard and waited, also notifying the Hollywood police, but the two men apparently passed the deputies.

The police assert Jones and Goings admit the burglary.

WAR OPENED ON DANGER POINTS

grade crossings in less than a year and a half, and the rate is steadily increasing!

Aside from the suffering to victims and their families, the economic loss is incalculably great. Cold-actuary estimates would place the loss at not less than $1,500,000 in one year in one county.

For the sake of humanity and to prevent the great economic loss the weight of argument against grade crossings is overwhelming. The Automobile Club recommends, therefore, that all parties interested join in an effective program to eliminate the crossings.

TWO STEPS URGED

It is recommended: First, that no more permits for grade crossings on principal highways be granted; second, that steps be taken to separate the more dangerous crossings with the least possible delay, and that the process of elimination be continued until this terrible menace is permanently reduced to a minimum.

An immediate measure of precaution pending the separation of highways and railroad tracks, it is recommended that all trains slow down at crossings to fifteen miles per hour, or such speed as may insure full control by motorists. It is also recommended that the campaign of educating motorists to be careful in approaching crossings be continued in the most effective manner possible.

The Automobile Club pledges its co-operation in such educational campaigns and in putting into effect a policy not to grant further permits for grade crossings on principal highways.

Recognizing that the responsibility does not rest entirely upon the railroad, and that the burden of separation cost cannot fairly fall entirely upon the railroad, the Automobile Club of Southern California recommends that the cost be fairly and equitably apportioned between the railroad, the counties and municipalities involved and the State of California, in such cases where State highways are involved.

It is recommended that a competent engineering commission investigate the conditions, determine which crossings shall first be separated, and recommend the manner of separation with estimates of the cost.

The gravity of the situation is brought home with crushing force by recent fatalities and by the conviction that so long as the grade crossings remain, the number of accidents will increase with the growing traffic.

PENALTY OF MISTAKE

It is true that many of the accidents are caused by the carelessness or mistakes of automobile drivers. But granting this, shall a condition be tolerated that imposes a death penalty for a mistake? No man and no woman is infallible. Mistakes are always likely to occur. People are careless every day and sometimes they suffer for it, but it is unthinkable that motorists should be in danger of losing their lives every time a mistake is made.

Furthermore, grade-crossing accidents are not all due to carelessness. The condition itself is dangerous and it is not to be expected that every motorist should know all the conditions that govern. Few people, for instance, know when a train is running at five miles an hour. Those who do, do not realize that the train is traveling at a rate of seventy-three feet per second.

Preliminary observations by the club's engineers show that many of the more dangerous crossings can be readily and economically separated. Some of them exist because both the railroad tracks and highways have been graded to meet on a new, high level. In such cases one could be raised and the other lowered. The accompanying photograph and drawing illustrate the practical manner in which the deadly crossing on Pico Boulevard near the city limits could be separated.

The Pacific Electric Railway crosses a heavily traveled highway at this point. Many accidents have occurred there. Three persons were killed there last Memorial Day. The railroad was built on a fill for about a quarter of a mile, and conditions are very favorable for separation.

Travel is also very heavy at the Wilshire-Santa Monica Boulevard crossing. Conditions there are also favorable for separation.

NEGLECTANCE COSTLY

Accidents occur frequently at the National Boulevard Culver City crossing. Conditions there are not so favorable for separation as the work can be done without great difficulty.

There have been many serious accidents at the crossing on Santa Monica Boulevard near the Glendale city limits. The railroad company maintains a tower at considerable expense, and also has to replace the crossing frogs frequently.

The separation costs of such a crossing would be no more than would be justified by financial expediency, to say nothing of the humanitarian aspect.

Because of its negligence in the matter of grade crossings and because of the enormous increase in traffic, Southern California faces one of the most dangerous crossing situations in the world.

Northern California has effected ten crossing separations for every one in Southern California. Other communities have recognized the peril, and have acted. Chicago and Indianapolis have eliminated most of their principal crossings. Other countries have long since done away with grade crossings. It is possible to travel for hundreds of miles in European countries without striking a grade crossing.

California is a network of intersecting railroads and highways. The Automobile Club, at the request of city and county officials, has erected a great many grade-crossing signs. It has erected 1484 signs at 742 crossings in Los Angeles city and county, and these do not represent all the crossings. Instead of ameliorating the condition it has been permitted to get more and more dangerous every year.

The Automobile Club believes that the condition is so serious that prompt and effective action is imperative. For the sake of humanity and economy and on behalf of the motoring public, the club therefore urges that steps be taken without delay to remove a menace which is exacting every month and every year a frightful toll of human lives.

Because of the wisdom of separating grade crossings and the dire necessity for ameliorating present conditions, the club proposes to continue its efforts along this line without cessation until definite action is taken.

Spiritualism
LOS ANGELES, July 13.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Is spiritualism one of the lost senses? So many people seem to have an inkling of spiritualism that I may be true. It may have been possible in the very beginning of things that we could converse with the dead. There are wonderful things in nature that we know nothing about. There is an unseen force that will go through a wall of steel or iron without being out by our bodies and the healthier a person is the more he will generate—it is personality. It is love and it is the question of how little of it.

As we have come down through the ages there is no question but that we have lost some of the most valuable information. This radio set that we are carrying around on our shoulders has dwindled down until it is only a local affair. The long distance coil is broken down. The battery has become so badly diluted that we cannot get the long distance intelligence that we were intended to have. There is a chain of intelligence hanging over our head. If we could grow until we could conceive of this intelligence we would all be brothers on the highway all of our life.

No matter what our experience has been on all this it is better to love than to fight. It is better to love than to struggle and to be better to tell the truth than a falsehood.

Still we are rapidly losing all these things that nature gave us. It is possible that we have lost spiritualism somewhere along the path of life.

A Fica for Mercy
LOS ANGELES, July 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Several friends of influential standing in this city have written me asking of the humane officials to the condition of a wild cat which is caged in front of a fur store on Broadway near Second street, and as yet no action has been taken to remedy the situation. The animal in question is the subject of annoyance, and often fright, at the hands of the curious who see just how much they can do to arouse the anger of the animal. At 11 o'clock in the afternoon, the hot sun pours down upon the cage, which has absolutely no shelter, and the unfortunate animal is obliged to undergo further torment.

Were not the humane laws of Los Angeles incorporated for protection of innocent animals? This? If so, why not enforce the law? Where are the humanitarian gentlemen of the city that so member and are not of sound mind a helpless dumb brute?

CHILD-TANGLE CASE NEAR END

To Complete Testimony Today in Shosted Trial

Two Sisters Fight for Girl 5 Years of Age

Parentage Question is Chief Point at Issue

Testimony will be completed and arguments heard today before Judge Hewitt in the matter of the custody of 5-year-old June Shosted. The court will be called on to decide whether the child shall go to her mother, Mrs. Lois Pollan, or remain with her foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Shosted.

The case in which facts and incidents even peculiar to fiction, were brought out, presents a puzzle of parentage backed by the desire of two women to obtain custody of the child.

Chronologically the story begins with an asserted love affair between the mother of the child and Frank Melton in Springfield, Mo., in the summer of 1927. Melton, a soldier, is declared by the now Mrs. Pollan to be the father of the child.

She told the court she loved Melton better than life itself and sobbingly declared that if she had shined it had been for love, a great love. Melton was sent to France and the girl he left behind to sustain the burden of an illegitimate child, never heard from him again.

TELLS HER STORY

Following Melton's departure and a realization of her condition, she went to the home of a sister, Mrs. Earl Shanholtzer, in Wayneside, Kan., and confessed that she was about to become a mother. The sister, desiring to protect a member of her family from gossip, told her she would assist in keeping the matter from the world and even members of their own family.

A plan was entered into between the sisters and the child was born at a hospital in Independence, Kan., ostensibly by Mrs. Shanholtzer. Mrs. Shanholtzer, the mother left shortly for her home in Missouri and the baby was taken by Mrs. Shanholtzer, who was then the daughter of the Shanholtzers. The baby was cared for by Mrs. Shanholtzer, while the mother was on her way, corresponding occasionally with the foster-mother, but taking little interest in the upbringing of the child, according to the testimony of Mrs. Shosted, formerly Mrs. Shanholtzer.

SUPPORTED CHILD

Later the husband of Mrs. Shanholtzer died and the foster-mother was thrown upon the world with no resources and a baby to care for. She obtained work as a domestic and from her meager earnings supported the child. Mrs. Shosted, the foster-mother, declared on the witness stand that the child was the daughter of her sister, now Mrs. Pollan, her husband, Earl Shanholtzer, deceased. She protected her sister and her husband at the same time, she stated, when she assumed the role of motherhood.

She declared her husband and sister had confessed prior to the birth of the child that they had planned and begged her to aid them. This statement was vehemently denied by Mrs. Pollan, who accordingly pointed her finger at her sister and declared she would never dare make such a statement if her first husband was alive.

Coming to California the foster-mother met Earl C. Shosted, a street-car motorist, who married her for the second time. A baby was born about a year later but love for this child was shared equally with affection for the foster-daughter, according to the testimony of both Mr. and Mrs. Shosted.

WEDS ARMY OFFICER

In the meantime, however, the mother had married Capt. Clayton Pollan, an army officer, first confessing her folly of youth and receiving forgiveness. Capt. Pollan, now in business in Pittsburg, received a good salary and established a home in Savannah, Ga. He agreed with his wife that they should take her child and rear it as their own.

Mrs. Pollan wrote her sister asking for the child. The sister, frightened by the possibility of losing the baby she loved as her own, did not reply, according to Mrs. Pollan's testimony. The youth was employed detectives to locate the child.

The child was reported to be in Los Angeles. Mrs. Pollan had here only to find the child had been taken to Duluth, Minn. Mrs. Pollan then suffered a nervous breakdown, and her husband took up the pursuit. Later she joined him in Duluth, and there they found adopted papers had been secured by the Shosteds.

MOTHER LAST CASE

On a writ of habeas corpus to obtain custody of the child, the court held against the mother. Mrs. Pollan is asserted to have attacked her sister, Mrs. Shosted, in Duluth, throwing a handful of red pepper in her eyes as she was coming from an attorney's office. The scene of battle then shifted to Los Angeles, where another attempt to get a writ of habeas corpus was launched. In the courtroom of Judge Hewitt during the past week the battle for possession of the child was waged. It was submitted today for the court to decide whether:

The mother has lost the right to claim her child through asserted neglect following her husband's death.

Or whether a mother's love and right of possession to her own child should have precedence over the claims of others regardless of their nature.

ARRANGE LAST RITES

FOR DROWNED YOUTH

Funeral services for Richard Oughton, 9 years of age, son of Thomas Oughton, city purchasing agent, will be conducted at 1 p.m. today at Pierce Brothers' chapel, Forest street. Burial will be at Forest Lawn cemetery. The youth was drowned Saturday at Arrowhead Lake.

COMB CATALINA'S SHORES

Raiding Officers Exploring Coves for Liquor Hidden by Smugglers Before Clean-up

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

AVALON (Santa Catalina Island) July 15.—Out of the tumult and general excitement of last night's raids, when the District Attorney's dry explorers were crashing along Catalina's peaceful shores, Avalon emerged today redoubled and comparatively dry, with its leading gambling resorts littered with debris and some of the town's most prominent bootleggers enjoying an enforced holiday. The county and state officers sent here to plant the banners of Volstead and Wright were still on the go when the population arose to talk over the big deluge of the night before.

One hundred and sixty-five cases of bonded goods, real Scotch whisky, buried somewhere along the shores of the island, is the object of new expedition launched early this morning by Detective George Contreras and his men. The liquor, according to the information obtained this morning, was landed by a smuggler's crew on the shores of Catalina some weeks ago and the dozen or more of bottles taken in one raid last night was part of this shipment.

A few stills and various sundry individuals named in warrants in the possession of the warrants are yet among the missing. So while the thousands who came here for a week-end and were treated to an exciting time last night are enjoying themselves, the officers are exploring the little coves and landing places.

ARRANGE FOR RAIL

The details of arranging for ball were completed today. At a special session in the City Hall those taken in the first gambling raid at 305 Crescent avenue gave the names of George T. Butler, Sam Kardoski, B. F. O'Leary, George Feltrop and L. T. Boyle. They were held under $500 cash bail to appear in Department D at 3 p.m. the 16th inst.

The pool-room raid where nine slot machines were taken following the following: Eddie Bergmann, Vincent Detunski, R. H. Houghton. The ball was put up as property bond at $1000 each, and they are to appear in Department B at 2 p.m. the 16th inst. The men taken in custody for gambling as visitors were released on $10 each except the two men who were found in possession of guns. They were held under $50 and $100 each.

The rediscovery of Catalina, speaking from the Volstead and Wright points of view, was by far its most spectacular event since the big fire. Armed with search warrants and white panel pants, the dry raiders invaded Catalina in two parties and are still at it. This undoubtedly was the first Sunday here since the white man discovered freewater.

The rounding up of the suspects sought by the officers will be a hard task. Two of the raiders were tipped by a waitress at breakfast that the bulls were in town and advised them to hide their liquor. Considerable political doping was heard around the walks today. One of the City Trustees is said to be the owner of the building in which the biggest raid was staged shortly before midnight. The man was not arrested, but was erroneously rumored around, but Detective Contreras was looking for him just to have a talk with him.

The $400, mostly in silver, the gambling paraphernalia and the slot machines were taken together by Detective Contreras and his men and will be shipped to Los Angeles tonight. The prisoners, most of them arrested on warrants issued in Los Angeles by Justice of Peace Scott, will be arraigned there, too.

DRUGS FOUND ALSO

Coincidentally with the dry and gambling raids, but not a part of them, was the confiscation here of seven ounces of morphine by Narcotics Inspector Peoples. The narcotic was sent by mail to a resident of the island and was intercepted by the authorities.

While the officials cannot at this time disclose the details of the case, sensational developments are expected to follow. The raiding officers located Justice of the Peace Wendle of Avalon and asked him to hold court. When a mob estimated that more than 300 crowded the near-by streets, the men taken in the gambling parties were ushered into court and there released on bail. Officers Woodside and Christie, on their way up to Veleudene avenue to search a house for liquor, were followed by a mob of men and boys with drawn revolvers. The two men held the crowd at the foot of the hill, while a third officer burst the door of a closet and confiscated the booze.

Another spectacular incident of the raid was an altercation between Detective Mahoney of the raiding squad and City Marshal Halstead of Avalon. Mahoney forcibly dragged Halstead into the saloon where the raid was being staged to keep him "near at hand." No further action was taken.

NEW RECORD

SET FOR OIL WELL DEPTH

Shell Company Dobyys No. 2 is Down Further Than Any Other

The world's record for deep production has again been broken.

This time it has been shattered by the Shell Company, which for a time held the deep production record of the West with its Andrews well, a mile deep.

The new record has been established by the Shell's Dobyys No. 2, which, but for the fact that the Union Oil Company's gigantic gas well has prevented the drillers from working, would now be in production, company officials say.

The Dobyys No. 2 is a recompletion, 5450 feet deep. It has been made to flow within two or three days, reports say. The gas well has been hauled rock and sand and mud around with such reckless abandon for three or four days that the Shell Company's crew hasn't been able to get close enough to get up steam and bring the Dobyys in.

State Seeks Details of Closet Door Arrangement in Oesterreich Case

What an interior decorator saw when he repainted the closet door behind which Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich was imprisoned last August after the murder of her husband, was believed yesterday to be one of the last links in the chain of evidence which would lead to the capture of the murderer.

G. W. Plazek, employed by a furniture company, was interviewed yesterday by the officers, but his identity was not learned until yesterday. Several weeks after the murder, Mrs. Oesterreich was sent out to the Oesterreich house to do some work. He took down the closet door and repainted it. That door probably holds the secret of the murder, Capt. Home and Lieut. Cline hope to convince a jury that the door would lock without turning the key, that it would close by a spring.

Thus, by observations of a workman, light may be thrown on what investigators admit is one of the best alibis ever offered by the Oesterreichs. The door was locked when the murder was committed, and the door was locked when the murder was committed, and the door was locked when the murder was committed.

At their home in Van Nuys the husband asserts his wife entered the closet in such a manner that it not only scolded visitors but also her children. "I don't want the other man for a papa" one of their little girls is declared to have stated to her father in remarking that she disliked Cytherea.

In her complaint for divorce on the grounds of desertion, the wife charged that her husband treated her with cruelty. They were married in 1913 and separated June 5, last.

Other Men in Life of Spouse, Says Husband

Mrs. Lois Somerville believed in the strength of numbers, according to the cross-complaint filed by her husband, Clarence Somerville, her husband, who states in his action for divorce that there were at least three other men in his wife's life. The husband and wife were married in 1913 and separated June 5, last.

Pioneer Harbor Woman, Injured by Auto, is Dead

Mrs. Olivia Peterson, 70 years of age, died early yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. V. Soderman, 417 North Grand avenue, Los Angeles, as a result of injuries received when she was run down by an automobile last Friday night. Suffering from concussion of the brain and internal injuries, Mrs. Peterson had been unconscious since the accident.

The body of Mrs. Peterson, who was one of the pioneer residents of the port, is at Cleveland undertakers parlors, Los Angeles Harbor. Tall candles were used at the Eddystone light for more than 100 years.

PAGEANT OPENS SEASON TONIGHT

Pilgrimage Play Declared Better Than Ever

Changes Designed to Lend Added Reverence

Principals of Other Years Resume Old Roles

The Passion Play of America, depicting the most dramatic incidents in the life of Christ in a fashion fully comparable to that of Oberammergau, will begin its fourth annual season with tonight's performance in the picturesque canyon amphitheater at the junction of Cahuenga and Highland avenues.

The sponsors of the Pilgrimage Play, as it is known, have been working during the last year in an endeavor to improve several scenes in the play, and critics who have seen rehearsals declare that this year's performance is decidedly superior to previous presentations. The changes have been designed to increase the beauty of the production, to make the drama more accurate as a historical pageant, and to accentuate the reverence of the religious story.

The lighting effects, which have been outstanding features of the play from its beginning, have been improved this year, and the accuracy of the costumes has been changed, it is believed for the better.

IDEALS GUARDED

However, nothing has been done to interfere with the ideals and aspirations of the late Christine Wetherill Stevenson, the original producer of the Pilgrimage Play, which she devoted years of study which brought the play into being.

In anticipation of crowds greater than those of previous years, the management has made adequate arrangements to care for those who come. Parking facilities have been greatly increased, and the driveway into the Pilgrimage Theater grounds has been re-travelled and surfaced. The streetcar company has agreed to provide special car service for the nightly productions six times a week, no Sunday performance being given.

SETTING PICTUREQUE

The unusual stage setting of a natural hillside background, which travelers to Palestine declare is precisely like the hillside "round about Jerusalem," has been carefully preserved as in previous years, and the costumes, historically accurate and intentionally beautiful, are essentially the same as in earlier productions.

Most of the roles in this year's performance are to be taken by the same actors and actresses who have appeared during the earlier years. In the necessary changes the management has made to obtain more experienced and sympathetic players.

Tickets are on sale at Barker Bros., 116 South Broadway, and at the Kress Drug Company in Hollywood. Those who desire to be certain of obtaining seats are advised to make early reservations.

The Woman and Her Job

(Questions of general interest, bearing on the material aspects of women's problems, will be answered by Mrs. Warren in this column.)

"SHE KNOWS THE LAW"

"You seem to specialize in failure," writes "Why not say something about the girl reaching the measure of success?" Perhaps the problem of the girl on the highroad to success is quite as important as that of the one trying to climb the bank to reach that road. But her progress seems too easy and naturally she needs no helping hand. Many girls use shorthand as the opening wedge into that great field of "something better."

One girl, whom I know, began as a stenographer in a law office. She was not anything so important as a secretary, though she was the only employee of the most verbose and pedantic lawyer who ever held a brief. After two or three years with him she studied law, and in due time was admitted to the bar. Doubtless she came to the conclusion that if the man who employed her could become a successful lawyer, it was no reason why she might not at least make an attempt.

After a time she secured a stenographic job with the prosecuting attorney and began to handle minor matters in court. Just simple things—motions for continuance, and the like, which are usually prepared before the trial. It is not court—such as any law student is expected to understand.

Several years slipped by, bringing larger opportunities, and then one day someone suggested that she become candidate for Justice of the Peace. And to her very great surprise she was elected.

"Say, you know, I'm not in a position to have that case transferred," I've got to have that case transferred. And thus and thus, and thus the lawyers had to say about trying cases before the girl Justice. "That case has been assigned to Justice Blank—any time I jeopardize my client's interest by going before a girl I'll know it. I've got to have that case transferred." And thus and thus, and thus the lawyers had to say about trying cases before the girl Justice.
